IV. Statement of Claim

(State here as briefly as possible the facts of your case. Describe how each defendant is involved,

1. THE MISCONDUCT: On 1/4/05, defendant Sue Hannah, based solely on the satiric content in a literary work of fiction entitled, The Nominees, authored by plaintiff, issued plain-a Disciplinary Misconduct.
2. On 1/5/05, defendant Sue Hannah, prior to any adjudication of the disciplinary misconduct, ordered plaintiff removed from his Raised-level Housing Unit and, thus, stripped of all earned pay and privileges.
3. On 1/7/05, defendant Norris, after plaintiff entered a plea of NOT GUILTY, found plaintiff GUILTY and imposed a sentence of 30 days in the Restrictive Housing Unit; aka, the Hole.
4. On 1/21/05, plaintiff filed an administrative appeal to defendants Whitesel, Kormanic and Briggs [hereafter referred to as the Program Review Committee, or PRC].

5. On 1/26/05, the PRC SUSTAINED defendant Norris' finding of GUILT.
6. THE CONFISCATION: On 1/9/05, defendant Myers ordered the confiscation of numerous Certificates and three (3) manuscripts; all of which, originals: The Nominees, The Honey Bun Police and Now Hiring! from plaintiff's personal property.
7. On 1/22/05 and 1/31/05, plaintiff wrote to Defendant Myers and inquired as to whether or not the confiscated items had been, or was going to be, returned to plaintiff.
8. On 2/4/05, defendant Painter responded, "The stories which you speak are in regards to staff and involved in a misconduct. They will not be returned to you."
9. On 2/11/05, plaintiff replied, in part, "The manuscripts were illegally confiscated, without just cause and, moreover, the [wrongful] confiscation of the three (3) manuscripts and Certificates is a violation of plaintiff's First Amendment; Freedom of Speech, Rights. Even first year law students know: Though an individual may disagree with the subject matter, content, or overall theme of a speech or written article, the First Amendment of the United States Constitution strictly prohibits any form of persecution or prosecution against anyone exercising such basic, fundamental right." Plaintiff then requested that "all confiscated manuscripts and Certificates be returned to him without further delay."
10. On 2/14/05, plaintiff filed an OFFICIAL GRIEVANCE asserting that the Certificates and manuscripts were wrongful confiscation.
11. On 2/22/05, plaintiff was summoned to defendant Painter's office. And, in an obscure decision that did nothing to address the initial [wrongful] confiscation, defendant Painter returned all of the "numerous" Certificates, Now Hiring! and The Honey Bun Police--minus the last (Certificate) page. The Nominees, however, was NOT returned.

12. On 3/3/05, defendant Palakovich DENIED plaintiff's OFFICIAL GRIEVANCE. On 3/8/05, plaintiff filed an appeal to the office of Inmate Grievances/Appeals. Final review was rendered 11/4/05.

13. CLAIMS FOR RELIEF: The actions of defendant Hannah in issuing plaintiff a Disciplinary Misconduct, based solely on satiric content of a literary work of fiction, despite her knowledge of the above described Freedom of Speech violation, constituted deliberate indifference and denied the plaintiff freedom of speech in violation of the First Amendment to the Unites States Constitution.

14. The actions of defendants Norris in refusing to call witnesses requested by the plaintiff, and finding of GUILT, despite his knowledge of the above described freedom of speech and due process violations, constituted deliberate indifference and further denied plaintiff the freedom of speech and due process of law in violation of the First, Fourth and Fourteenth Amendments to the United States Constitution.

15. The failure of defendants Whitesel, Kormanic and Briggs in refusing to overturn the plaintiff's disciplinary conviction, despite their knowledge of the above described freedom of speech and due process violations, constituted deliberate indifference and further denied plaintiff freedom of speech, due process and equal protection of law in violation of the First, Fourth, and Fourteenth Amendments to the United States Constitution.

16. The actions of defendant Myers in ordering the confiscation of plaintiff's numerous Certificates and three (3) manuscripts, despite his knowledge of the above described freedom of speech and due process violations, constituted deliberate indifference and further denied plaintiff freedom of speech guaranteed and substantive due process of law in violation of the First, Fourth and Fourteenth Amendments to the United States Constitution.

17. The actions of defendant Painter in NOT returning The Nominees, or the Certificate page of The Honey Bun Police, despite his knowledge of the above described freedom of speech and due process violations, constituted deliberate indifference and further denied plaintiff freedom of speech and due process of law in violation of the First, Fourth and Fourteenth Amendments to the United States Constitution.

18. The actions of defendant Palakovich in DENYING plaintiff's OFFICIAL GRIEVANCE, despite his knowledge of the above described freedom of speech and due process violations, constituted deliberate indifference and further denied plaintiff the federal guarantees of freedom of speech and due process of law in violation of the First, Fourth and Fourteenth Amendments to the United States Constitution.

19. All defendants have acted, and continue to act, under color of state law at all times relevant to this complaint. Furthermore, all defendants are being sued in their individual and official capacity.

v. Relief

1. Issue an injunction ORDERING the PRC to: 1. Expunge from plaintiff's institutional record the conviction described herein and; 2. Return all confiscated items and; 3. Restore plaintiff's privileges/pay to status quo prior to incident.
2. Award compensatory damages in the amounts of: $30,000 jointly and severally against defendants Hannah, Norris, and the PRC for the punishment/emotional injuries in connection with plaintiff's disciplinary proceedings. And, $20,000 each against defendants Myers, Painter and Palaovich in connection with the confiscation of plaintiff's numerous Certificates and manuscripts.
3. Award punitive damages in the amounts of: $20,000 each against defendants Hannah, Norris, and the PRC. And, $10,000 each against defendatnts Myers, Painter and Palakovich.
